Another article read from the magazine included a resolution adopted by the Western Federation of Miners and signed by Haywood and others, denouncing Governor Steunenberg for requiring all persons seeking work in the Coeur d'Alenes to renounce affiliation with any union.

"We condemn such action," the resolution read, "as action worthy of tyrants in the middie ages."

The resolution also condemned the "unjust and inhuman administration of Steunenberg."

From the issue of June, 1900. Senator Borah read a comment upon a speech by Mr. Sovereign at the convention of the Western Federation of Miners in the absence of Haywood.

Kirwan detailed the duties of the office he now fills. He was asked about the membership of the executive board in different years, the object being to show that "Jack" Simpkins, implicated by Orchard in the first attempt upon Governor Steunenberg, was a member of the board in 1904, 1905 and 1906. Kirwan said this was true. He said the president and secretary-treasurer are ex-officio members of the board. Money from the treasury of the organization is paid out on order of the president and secretary-treasurer. This was all that was desired of Mr. Kirwan and he was released without cross-examination.

From time to time Senator Borah offered in evidence the list of officers of the federation as published in the magazine. In the first issues quoted, the officers included Ed Boyce, president; James Maher, secretary and treasurer, and William D. Haywood and Charles H. Moyer as members of the executive board.

Debs for President.

In the July issue of 1900 was an article signed by Ed Boyce urging all workingmen to support Eugene V. Debs and Joseph Harriman for president and vice president respectively, and denouncing McKinley and Roosevelt and Bryan and Stevenson as representatives of the capstevenson as representatives of the capitalistic classes. The Democratic party was assailed as the more inconsistent of the two old parties in that it claimed to be emancipated from the wealthy classes, but was not. The articles cited "the case of Governor Steunenberg, who sold himself to the Standard Oil company to plunder rob and murder the men who elected

The unsigned letter which Orchard got at Caldwell after his arrest and which he said was written by George Pettibone, one of the co-defendants, informed him that "that" had been sent to "Jack" on Dec. 21, 1905, and that he should have received it. The state produced the drafts sent by Haywood to Simpkins, and among them was one for $100 sent on some date in the 20s of December, 1905, but the particular day could not be made out because the second figure had been cut out by the perforator used on the draft.

Detectives were detailed to further trace the $100 draft and the telegram from Denver today states that the bank records show that Dec. 21 was the date of issue.
